

She died four months after her husband passed away. She and "Grandma" Rasband were buried the same day. Joint funeral services were held for them in the Stake Tabernacle.

ROBERT JR. AND EMMA JOHNSON McKNIGHT

Robert McKnight Jr., a son of Robert and Katherine Shields Murray McKnight, was born in Keysport, Pennsylvania. He was a baby of less than one year when his father and mother crossed the plains in a handcart company.

Robert lived his boyhood and adult life in Heber Valley. He was a mason and plasterer by trade, and worked in the lumber and saw mills, however, as a young man, until some time after his marriage. He was a musician, learning to play the cornet first. He was a member of the first band in Heber, which was under the directorship of Berlin Whitaker Sr. Later he learned to play the violin and played at dances his entire life. He was always accompanied by his life-long friend, Dick Duke, at the organ or piano. Edward Murdock also accompanied with his guitar and later his son, Lynn McKnight, played the banjo.

"Uncle Bob," as he was known, was also noted for his contributions on all Church and civic buildings. His sons and daughters were: Lillie, Rudolph, Emma, Ina, Clarence, Nellie, Almeda, Luella, Bert, Lynn and Paul. This made a total of 11 children. Nellie and Clarence both died in infancy.

Emma Johnson, daughter of Jonas and Stena Bringeon Johnson, was born in Tidelhome, Sweden. She was sent to this country for the Church at the age of 12 years. She was seven weeks on a sailing vessel, third class. Her entire food supply was in baskets. After landing at Ellis Island, she was sent to Salt Lake City with a tag pinned on her coat for identification.

Emma lived in Salt Lake City some years with her sister, Nettie Soffia. As a young girl and woman she worked as a laundry-ist at Brigham Young's Lion House. Later she worked with her sister Nettie in the leading restaurant in Salt Lake for three years. She then came to Heber Valley after her parents came from Sweden. She met Robert McKnight there and after a year of courtship they were married.

She lived at the sawmills in the summers with her husband, until they could acquire a home in Heber City. They lived at Daniels Creek, Wasatch County, for three years and then moved back to Heber. Emma was known for her frankness and industry. She was known as a very hard worker and a home lover. Her memories of her life in Sweden were very keen, and her love for that land was with her always.

ROBERT MONTGOMERY SR.

Robert Montgomery Sr. was born January 7, 1825, in Ireland.

He went to Scotland and married Mary Rogers Loury on March 1, 1846. She died January 10, 1863, in Heber City.

Mary Rogers Loury was born in Scotland on April 25, 1830. Seven children were born to them: Agnes, Sarah, Mary, Robert, Livingston, Elizabeth, Christine. Two children by two later marriages were: Josephine Booth and John L. Horrocks.

Robert Montgomery Sr. was the seventh child of Robert Montgomery and Agnes Shepherd. He was born January 7, 1825, in Churchtown, Ireland. At what age he entered the British army is not known, but at the age of 15 years he left the army and went to Scotland. Records show that at the age of 22, Robert Montgomery married Mary Rogers Loury. Robert was listed as being from Don Donald Parish, Ireland, and Mary gave her home town as Sanquiver Parish, Ayrshire, Scotland. The date was March 1, 1846.

During the winter of 1846, Robert and Mary joined the Mormon Church. Robert was called to preside over the Ayrshire District. To provide for an ever-increasing family, Robert worked in the mines in various capacities. Since this work was proving very detrimental to his health, he decided to emigrate to Utah, which he did in 1861.

He crossed the ocean on the ship "Underwriter," with 624 LDS members aboard. Nulo Andrus, Homer Duncan, and C. N. Penrose were in charge of the group. The ship arrived at New York at Castle Gardens on May 22, 1861. June 2, 1861, found him at Florence, Nebraska, and on September 21, 1861, he arrived among friends in Heber City, Utah. There he proceeded to plan for the coming of his family. During the time he was building a home he lived with the following families: Thomas Nicols, James Laird, Thomas Todd, Jesse Bond, David Stevenson and John McKechney. Robert worked as a pioneer cabinet maker. He made the desk that was used in the old tithing office at Heber City.

Mary Rogers Loury was born at Witlets Toll, Scotland, on April 25, 1830, 19 days after the organization of The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints. Mary and her seven children sailed on May 14, 1862, on the "Tapscott" from Liverpool. Francis M. Lyman, John Clark and William Gibson were in charge of the company. They arrived in New York and went by train to the Missouri River, where they joined the Homer Duncan company. This company left Florence, Nebraska, on July 24, 1862, and arrived in Salt Lake City on September 22, 1862.

Robert and his family were reunited only to be permanently separated on January 10, 1863, by the death of Robert. He was at this time 38 years and 3 days old. Mary, age 32, was left with seven children to face the dreary winter and years ahead. The family of Robert and Mary Montgomery are: Agnes, Sarah, Mary, Robert, Livingston, Christine, Josephine and John L. This was the humble start of the Montgomery family in Wasatch County. Subsequently Mary remarried. Mary Montgomery died July 2, 1904, at the age of 74 years, at Heber City, Utah.

ROBERT BOOTH MONTGOMERY

My father, Robert Booth Montgomery, was born September 13, 1854, at Cregmark, Ayrshire County, Scotland. He was the son of Robert and Mary Loury Montgomery, the fourth in a family of seven children. As a child of seven he emigrated to America with his mother, sisters and brother. They sailed on a Wednesday, approximately May 14, 1862, from Liverpool, England, on the ship "William Topscoth," with 808 saints. They were under the direction of William Gibson, John Clark and Francis M. Lyman. As fellow passengers on board were friends from Scotland, John M. Murdock and family. After six weeks on the water they arrived safely at New York. Then began their long, hard journey across the plains by ox team with the Captain Duncan company. My father walked all the way. They arrived at Kansas City and there awaited the arrival of their husband and father, Robert Sr. He, with his friend, Jimmy Laird, had come to Utah in 1861 and had located at Heber City, Utah. He had built a log house with dirt floors and roof, ready to receive his loved ones. Food had been scarce, the winters severe and cold, and the effects of working many years in the coal mines in Scotland began to tell on him. His health broke, so when the time came for him to meet his family he was too ill to go, so he sent his friend, Jimmy Laird, in his place. One night, while his wife Mary was asleep, she awakened to hear a clear Scotch voice calling. "Is Mary Montgomery aboard?" She was disappointed, but courage was common in that persevering band. They made their way to Utah. Grandfather was overjoyed at seeing his family. Within six months he developed pneumonia and died on January 10, 1863. The snow was about three feet deep when they buried him in Heber Cemetery.

Having been a good carpenter, he owned a very good set of carpenter tools. Grandmother had to sell them for money to live on. She traded a valuable Scotch Paisley shawl for a cow so the children could have milk.

My father was then but eight years old. He was hired out to work for Bishop Hunter. He worked several years, turning the money over to his mother to help with living expenses. When he was 12 years old he and his brother Livingston, age eight, hauled wood from the canyons for fuel. When he was 17 he was a blacksmith in the mines at Alta and Big Cottonwood Canyon. While there a cave-in occurred, and cut his head, broke his shoulder and his hand. In Scotland children start school at the age of four. As my father was playing in the school yard where it extended to the broad banks of the River Clyde, he fell into the stream. The men who happened by and saved his life turned out to be two Mormon missionaries. They converted the family to The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints. My grandfather was president of the branch until he left for America.

My Grandmother Mary Rogers Loury Montgomery was a persistent worker. No

task that would add to their provisions was ignored. She would go into the fields with other women and glean the wheat, which was used for bread and cereal. Along with her many trials in raising her family, her heart was always sad for her parents left in Scotland and who refused to answer any of her letters. They had told her if she joined the LDS Church they would disown her, but as long as she lived she still wrote to them. She never received any word from any of her family from the time she left Scotland until the time of her death.

Grandmother had a beautiful singing voice and was asked to take part in many entertainments as well as in Church groups. She was a faithful worker in the Church and was the first lady Sunday School teacher in Heber. She was born April 25, 1830, at Willels Toll, Scotland. She emigrated to Utah in 1862, making her home in Heber City, where she died July 29, 1904. She was loved and respected by her family and a host of friends.

My father married Sarah Young at the age of 20. They had no children. Her health was bad and on February 2, 1882, she died, being buried in Heber, Utah. For many years my father freighted for Dan Lambert's lumber mill in Kanab. He met Dan's sister Elizabeth and they fell in love, being married October 7, 1885, in the Logan Temple.

The following 12 children were born to them: Pearl Montgomery, Robert Lambert, Oliver, Hazel, Parley, Forest, Shield, Ruby, Dan, LaPreal, Ceber and Earl.

It seemed only natural for those who knew my mother to love her. Her type of beauty could best be described as being wholesome, a tall plump girl with dark blue eyes, fair skin and a lot of black wavy hair that fell to her knees when unpinned. Mother was the daughter of John and Lenna Flaccena Larson Lambert. She was born in Kanab, Utah, on June 14, 1865. After her marriage she moved to Heber, Utah, and was very active in Church and Civic work. Her family was her greatest interest. She was a kind and devoted wife and mother. One of their close friends, Joseph Hatch, once told her he wished he were an artist so he could paint her picture with her children.

My father was also a very fine-looking man, with black hair and black eyes. He was a big man and was always in good health until he was quite old. Although his schooling was meager he was keenly intelligent and loved to read. He had a ready wit and a very good sense of humor. Both friends and strangers traveling through enjoyed his friendly hospitality. When illness or death occurred in the community his services were fully given. If a widow needed a house built, he offered his time and helped build it. His friends could be counted by the score. All who knew him enjoyed his cheerful disposition and wonderful personality.

Life for my father held lots of joy, because of his habit of painting the clouds with sunshine. There came one cloud of sorrow remained with him until his death, that was when my mother, who had been his joy and inspiration, became ill and died. I shall never forget the heartache and sadness on that beautiful May morning when my mother left us. Neither will I forget the tender kindnesses my father showed us children, and the courage he displayed in the responsibility of being both father and mother to a family of children who ranged in ages from 18 months to 18 years. My father never married again, for he felt his duty was to us. He had a wonderful memory, a good singing voice, and loved to play his violin. I still have his violin, which was made in the year 1703.

My father's health failed and, in May, 1925, he suffered a paralytic stroke which made him helpless. With the help of my husband and children and my brothers Ceber and Earl, we cared for him until he died at my home in Midway, Utah. He never complained. He had one half-brother, John Montgomery, that was as dear to him as his own brother, also one sister, Josephena M. Rasband, who died in Salt Lake City in 1958.

As our gospel teaches us that many are called, but few are chosen, so in closing may I say that I feel both my father and mother were special spirits that the Lord sent here to perform a mission. They literally did this in keeping that great commandment of multiplying on the earth. I feel that they are now enjoying each other after their sad separation here on earth. May we their children keep alive their memory by obeying the teachings that they taught us as their children.

DR. FRANCIS C. MONTGOMERY

Francis C. Montgomery was born July 7, 1892, at Heber City, Utah, son of Livingston Montgomery and Amelia Ann Clegg Montgomery. He completed the eighth grade at the old Central School, when Attawall Wootton was county superintendent. D. A. Broadbent was principal, and B. A. Fowler was teacher. A very close and thoroughly inspected examination was the order of the day for that graduation.

He was listed in Wasatch County's first regular accredited four-year graduating class of Wasatch High School in the year 1912. Dr. Montgomery received a normal certificate from the University of Utah and taught school in Heber City two years. He married Dona Murdock, daughter of Joseph A. and Martha Fortie Murdock. Clayton and Dona had the following children: Elaine Montgomery (Jensen), Frances Montgomery (Cannon), Dr. Jay Montgomery, Monta Montgomery (Mack), Annette Montgomery (Bourne), and Dr. Steve Montgomery.

Dr. Montgomery received his doctor of dental surgery degree from the University of Southern California in 1917. He has practiced dentistry since that time at Heber City, except time out for an LDS mission to the Northern States and for army service. He was a private in the Medical Enlisted Reserve Corps in World War I, and served four years as a major and lieutenant colonel in World War II. He is now a retired colonel in the army of the United States. He is a member of the Central Utah Dental Assn., the Utah State Dental Assn. and the American Dental Assn. For his service to fellow dentists and by aiding the progress of dentistry in general through his teaching efforts in universities and dental seminars his name has been selected for inclusion in editions of Who's Who in American Dentistry. The doctor is a member of the International Pierre Fauchard Academy.

LIVINGSTON AND AMELIA ANN CLEGG MONTGOMERY

Livingston Montgomery was born at Watterside, Delmington Ayrshire, Scotland, on March 28, 1858, son of Robert and Mary Rogers Loury Montgomery. He married Amelia Ann Clegg in the Logan Temple on December 28, 1887. Amelia Ann was born January 19, 1869, at Springville, Utah. She broke his shoulder and his hand. In Scotland children start school at the age of four. As my father was playing in the school yard where it extended to the broad banks of the River Clyde, he fell into the stream. The men who happened by and saved his life turned out to be two Mormon missionaries. They converted the family to The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints. My grandfather was president of the branch until he left for America.

My Grandmother Mary Rogers Loury Montgomery was a persistent worker. No

task that would add to their provisions was ignored. She would go into the fields with other women and glean the wheat, which was used for bread and cereal. Along with her many trials in raising her family, her heart was always sad for her parents left in Scotland and who refused to answer any of her letters. They had told her if she joined the LDS Church they would disown her, but as long as she lived she still wrote to them. She never received any word from any of her family from the time she left Scotland until the time of her death.

Grandmother had a beautiful singing voice and was asked to take part in many entertainments as well as in Church groups. She was a faithful worker in the Church and was the first lady Sunday School teacher in Heber. She was born April 25, 1830, at Witlets Toll, Scotland. She emigrated to Utah in 1862, making her home in Heber City, where she died July 29, 1904. She was loved and respected by her family and a host of friends.

My father married Sarah Young at the age of 20. They had no children. Her health was bad and on February 2, 1882, she died, being buried in Heber, Utah. For many years my father freighted for Dan Lambert's lumber mill in Kansas. He met Dan's sister Elizabeth and they fell in love, being married October 7, 1885, in the Logan Temple.

The following 12 children were born to them: Pearl Montgomery, Robert Lambert, Oliver, Hazel, Parley, Forest, Shield, Ruby, Dan, LaPreal, Ceibert and Earl.

It seemed only natural for those who knew my mother to love her. Her type of beauty could best be described as being wholesome, a tall plump girl with dark blue eyes, fair skin and a lot of black wavy hair that fell to her knees when unpinned. Mother was the daughter of John and Lonna Hancena Larson Lambert. She was born in Kansas, Utah, on June 14, 1865. After her marriage she moved to Heber, Utah, and was very active in Church and Civic work. Her family was her greatest interest. She was a kind and devoted wife and mother. One of their close friends, Joseph Hatch, once told her he wished he were an artist so he could paint her picture with her children.

My father was also a very fine-looking man, with black hair and black eyes. He was a big man and was always in good health until he was quite old. Although his schooling was meager he was keenly intelligent and loved to read. He had a ready wit and a very good sense of humor. Both friends and strangers traveling through enjoyed his friendly hospitality. When illness or death occurred in the community his services were fully given. If a widow needed a house built, he offered his time and helped build it. His friends could be counted by the score. All who knew him enjoyed his cheerful disposition and wonderful personality.

Life for my father held lots of joy, because of his habit of painting the clouds with sunshine. There came one cloud of sorrow remained with him until his death, that was when my mother, who had been his joy and inspiration, became ill and died. I shall never forget the heartache and sadness on that beautiful May morning when my mother left us. Neither will I forget the tender kindnesses my father showed us children, and the courage he displayed in the responsibility of being both father and mother to a family of children who ranged in ages from 18 months to 18 years. My father never married again, for he felt his duty was to us. He had a wonderful memory, a good singing voice, and loved to play his violin. I still have his violin, which was made in the year 1703.

My father's health failed and, in May, 1925, he suffered a paralytic stroke which made him helpless. With the help of my husband and children and my brothers Ceibert and Earl, we cared for him until he died at my home in Midway, Utah. He never complained. He had one half-brother, John Montgomery, that was as dear to him as his own brother, also one sister, Josephena M. Rasband, who died in Salt Lake City in 1958.

As our gospel teaches us that many are called, but few are chosen, so in closing may I say that I feel both my father and mother were special spirits that the Lord sent here to perform a mission. They literally did this in keeping that great commandment of multiplying on the earth. I feel that they are now enjoying each other after their sad separation here on earth. May we their children keep alive their memory by obeying the teachings that they taught us as their children.

DR. FRANCIS C. MONTGOMERY

Francis C. Montgomery was born July 7, 1892, at Heber City, Utah, son of Livingston Montgomery and Amelia Ann Clegg Montgomery. He completed the eighth grade at the old Central School, when Attawall Wootton was county superintendent, D. A. Broadbent was principal, and B. A. Fowler was teacher. A very close and thoroughly inspected examination was the order of the day for that graduation.

He was listed in Wasatch County's first regular accredited four-year graduating class of Wasatch High School in the year 1912. Dr. Montgomery received a normal certificate from the University of Utah and taught school in Heber City two years. He married Dona Murdock, daughter of Joseph A. and Martha Fortie Murdock. Clayton and Dona had the following children: Elaine Montgomery (Jensen), Frances Montgomery (Cannon), Dr. Jay Montgomery, Monta Montgomery (Mack), Annette Montgomery (Bourne), and Dr. Steve Montgomery.

Dr. Montgomery received his doctor of dental surgery degree from the University of Southern California in 1917. He has practiced dentistry since that time at Heber City, except time out for an LDS mission to the Northern States and for army service. He was a private in the Medical Enlisted Reserve Corps in World War I, and served four years as a major and lieutenant colonel in World War II. He is now a retired colonel in the army of the United States. He is a member of the Central Utah Dental Assn., the Utah State Dental Assn. and the American Dental Assn. For his service to fellow dentists and by aiding the progress of dentistry in general through his teaching efforts in universities and dental seminars his name has been selected for inclusion in editions of Who's Who in American Dentistry. The doctor is a member of the International Pierre Fauchard Academy.

LIVINGSTON AND AMELIA ANN CLEGG MONTGOMERY

Livingston Montgomery was born at Watterside, Delmington Ayrshire, Scotland, on March 28, 1858, son of Robert and Mary Rogers Loury Montgomery. He married Amelia Ann Clegg in the Logan Temple on December 28, 1887. Amelia Ann was born January 19, 1869, at Springville, Utah. She